About Sensory Intelligence®

Sensory Intelligence® Consulting was founded by Dr Annemarie Lombard in 2002 and is backed by her 26 years' local and international experience as an Occupational Therapist and workshop facilitator. She holds a PhD in Occupational Therapy and practised with children with learning difficulties for 15 years. She works with a group of esteemed Occupational Therapists and to deliver Sensory Intelligence® as a training and development tool in South Africa and abroad. Their primary objective is to empower and equip teachers and parents so that children can learn and develop optimally. With loads of energy, passion and commitment they share their knowledge in a practical, easy to understand and no-nonsense way. They want happy kids, happy families and schools that really nurture learning, to ultimately Rethink the way we learn!
