

Educator Exchange: E2 Sparking educator curiosity and creativity.

Good day School Leader,

As the Head of School, I thought that this might be of interest to you.

We are inspired by educators who innovate in the classroom and provide the best learning opportunities for their students. Educators are sparking creativity and curiosity in their students, by embracing modern teaching and learning, innovative curriculum, and by providing immersive experiences with technology. To celebrate these amazing educators and provide them with the opportunity to collaborate with each other.

Microsoft is hosting the annual Microsoft Education Exchange (E2) event in South Africa and we are proud to include Education Leaders this year for the first time.

School Leadership Track:

The Education Transformation Framework is an effective, flexible platform for education transformation grounded by research from academics, experts, and policy makers. The key objectives of the ETF workshop is assist school leaders with

- Gain a strategic and holistic view of education transformation at a system level
- Learn how technical solutions can support your transformation
- Explore a roadmap for transformation and learning digitalization
- Create a draft digital transformation plan that Microsoft can help you realize

E2 serves as an opportunity to come together and explore industry trends – including emerging technologies that support teaching, skills development, modern teachings, safe school environments, and predictive analytics that identify at-risk students. It's a great event for education leaders who help transform today's teaching systems into learning organizations.
