

SPEAKERS

Tania Johnson – Institute of Child Psychology (Canada)

Tania is a Registered Psychologist and Play Therapist. In 2012, she received her Masters of Counselling from the City University of Seattle. Since completing her degree, she has worked in a private practice setting with children, teens, adults and families. She worked primarily from an attachment-based perspective. This means that she works with clients to explore how early relationships affect how we come to understand our self, other people and the world.

Roy Gluckman

Roy is an exceptionally skilled and passionate South African with over 8 years' experience in Diversity & Inclusion.

He is a keynote speaker, programme/workshop builder, facilitator & director. D & I strategist and consultant. He is passionate about nation building, honest yet tough engagements and social cohesion for the achievement of sustainable organisations and a better world.

Karen Denny

Karen is a seasoned 'digital thinker', leader and strategist, with over 18 years' experience. She strives to continually learn, find the new and change the way in which we view business problems as well as delivering direct, tangible solutions.

She is a dynamic leader with international experience in both the e-commerce and digital environments. Her varied experience - from marketing and product development, through to digital brand and communication strategies has allowed her to become proficient in a wide variety of topics. She is able to give invaluable insights and direction across the entire digital landscape.

Dr Colinda Linde

Colinda has been a clinical psychologist since 1993 and is the current chairperson of SADAG. She specialises in CBT for anxiety disorders and works extensively in the areas of stress management, work-life balance, sleep issues, assertion and mindfulness. Colinda also practices and teaches meditation and founded the self-help CBT website: www.thoughtfirst.com

Luke Lamprecht

Luke Lamprecht is a Child Protection and Development Specialist who is completing his MSc in Neurodevelopment at Wits within the Departments of Pediatrics and Pathology. He has worked in the NPO field for 24 years and is currently a director at Lefika La Phodiso: The Art Therapy Centre and Fight With Insight: Hillbrow Boxing re-Evolution Life Gym at the Children's Memorial Institute.

Allan Laing

Allan has worked in boarding schools since 1989, when he started his teaching career in Pietermaritzburg. During this time, he ran a boarding house in a state school, a boarding house in an independent school and now, as Deputy Rector, Allan looks after the eight Housemasters who run the boarding houses at Michaelhouse. This, he believes, is not dissimilar to looking after a herd of cats! He has a Masters degree in Educational Management and is the founder and initiator of the Boarding Schools of Southern Africa Association.

Peter Huntley

Peter has been in the teaching profession for over 30 years and has been involved in boarding schools for 17 of those. His first house-mastering experience was at a leading state school in Pietermaritzburg, followed by 12 years' experience at Michaelhouse. Here he has held the position of Senior Tutor and then became a Housemaster. For the past five years, he has been the Senior Housemaster and Senior Master: Boarding.

Tim Jarvis

Tim Jarvis is the author of the blog, 'There's a Hadedda in my Garden', which considers educational issues and teen well-being.

Tim has spoken at numerous conferences and schools around South Africa and has written articles for Independent Education in South Africa, the Christian Teacher's Journal in Australia and the Guardian Newspaper, UK.

Tim is currently the Senior Master: Pastoral Care at Michaelhouse and holds Honours degrees in Education and Psychology from the University of Exeter and the University of South Africa respectively. In 2018, Tim was the conference lead at the inaugural researchED conference in South Africa and currently serves on the Global Advisory Board of the University of St Andrews.

Jaco Heunis

Jaco has taught mostly Mathematics in the Intermediate and Senior Phase, in various schools to date. He has recently taken on the responsibility of Director of Student Affairs at St. David's Marist Inanda Preparatory School in Sandton - including pastoral care, discipline management and leadership development. He has a total of 13 years' experience in teaching in both private and public education.

Jaco is currently completing a Master's degree in Educational Leadership and Management at the University of Johannesburg. He is a part-time tutor for students at the University of South Africa.

Carey-Ann Dellbridge

Carey is currently the Director of Psychological Services at St Stithians Girls' College. In addition to overseeing the Support Department, she is involved in therapeutic counselling and wellness interventions with students, their families, and the staff. Carey consults with teachers and school leadership members, when relevant, and promotes systemic wellness within the school.

Carey has a special interest in Mindfulness and Mindfulness-based practices and was invited to present her research at the first international conference on Mindfulness, in Rome, in 2013.

Chris Hammond

Chris is a highly qualified and passionate education professional with significant experience in pedagogical, administrative and pastoral leadership.

He possesses excellent interpersonal, IT and communication skills and enjoys facilitating team leadership development in pressured and challenging working environments.