Most Frequently Asked Questions by ISASA (SAMSTIP) Internship Applicants

1. May I apply for a B.Ed. or PGCE in other phases or for other subjects?

For the 2022 academic year SAMSTIP will only consider applicants for PGCE (Senior and FET phase only) with specialisation in Mathematics and Physical/Life/Natural Sciences exclusively.

2. May I apply even if I did not do Mathematics?

Answer: No, Mathematics is the core subject and a candidate will then choose between Life Sciences, Physical Sciences or Natural Sciences.

3. May I apply if I did Mathematical Literacy?

Answer: No.

4. May those who are not South African citizens apply?

Answer: No (please note that you must have been born in South Africa to qualify).

5. What is the age range for applicants?

Answer: You must be younger than 30 years old when you commence with your PGCE studies.

6. May I choose the ISASA School at which I will be based for the period of my internship?

Answer: You may request a school, but there is no guarantee of placement until you have been for an interview with the school. Furthermore, not all ISASA schools host interns.

7. May I attend a different university other than UNISA?

Answer: At the moment SAMSTIP has established a good working relationship with UNISA, and so it's advisable to study through Unisa for both administrative and academic support purposes.

8. Am I guaranteed a job at an ISASA school after completing my internship?

Answer: No, you are required to teach at a public school and would be guaranteed a position in a public school. The mandatory period to be served in that position will depend on the number of years you spent in the programme at an equal time ratio. One year on the programme would equal one year contracted to teach at a public school.

9. If I fail one module, will ISASA continue to fund me?

Answer: Should you fail a particular module, you will have to pay either for supplementary examinations and/or to repeat that module.

10. How is the stipend calculated and how much is it?

Answer: The stipend is calculated by the funder and is a small amount which will not be enough to support a family but will be enough to cover small student needs while you are on the programme. To be eligible for the stipend you must be placed as an intern at an ISASA school and fulfil the responsibilities allocated to you.

NB: It is compulsory to serve your internship at an ISASA member school to qualify for the stipend.

A printable version of this form may also be made available, should it be absolutely necessary to complete a postal application. Please contact Slindile Shelembe at the ISASA offices: slindiles@isasa.org for a copy of this form. Postal Applications must be sent to: 16 St David Road, Houghton, 2198.

Answer: You may apply if you have reason to believe that you will achieve a better result or you have since completed an undergraduate qualification with relevant school subjects.

16. What is the selection process for the internship?

Answer: Your application will be processed and you may be invited to complete an entrance assessment. Should you pass these tests well, you will be invited for an interview. Those who are selected from the internal interview phase will then be interviewed by a potential host school and provisionally placed. In addition, all shortlisted applicants will then apply online to UNISA for admission. The list of those accepted into UNISA will then be reviewed and a final selection made. At this point the successful applicants will be formally notified in writing and instructed to report for duty at their Professional Development Host School.

17. Do you offer the same internship in any other field of study?

Answer: No.

18. Whom may I contact for feedback should I not receive a response?

Answer: Slindiles@isasa.org

19. May teachers who would like to improve their skills apply for this programme? (i.e. those with no degree or teachers who have completed a diploma)

Answer: This programme is an Initial Teacher Education (ITE) initiative, and is not designed to assist with up-skilling existing teachers. It is an internship-based model which requires full-time study and placement at a participating Professional Development Host School (which may require an inter-provincial move) for the duration of the period of study and without receiving a salary. Applicants must be able to fulfil all these requirements.
